

From: Ruediger Cordes
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 11/24/01 5:40am
Subject: My opinion

Hello misters and madams!

Microsoft ist selling its products to a price they like.
Conditions for companies have a little rabatt.
All handling of this is difficult and time taking.

They fight a battle against all other software companies.

And they used their market position to kill for example
Netscape by delivering IE for free.

When they sell their other products for high prices why is IE (Internet Explorer) for free?

And that is only one example. They are a strategic fighting company. Incidentally they are writing software.

Do what you want with MS, I will never buy anything from this company cause their products Windows and Office are too time consuming for me to use.

I like MacOS and am using this platform since 1987.
I was supporter for Windows NT too for 3 years.
That was enough for me.

Rüdiger Cordes
<http://opelgt.org>

CC: Jessica Rautenberg,Christin-Susan Back